

Where are we going? And what are we doing?

July/August '09

The Henry Moses Aquatic Center features eye-catching, 26-foot high orange and blue water slides, as well as two separate pools. The leisure pool includes popular features such as a zero-depth entry, wave machine, water spray play area, lazy river, island lagoon, two water slides, a water play structure, toddler water area, and numerous spray features.

The facility also contains large sun and shade spaces, a bathhouse, and lockers. A concession area, the Shark Bites Cafe, offers a variety of beverages, snacks, healthy treats, and a small selection of swimming accessories.

Crossroads Water Spray Play Area - located at the Crossroads International Play Area. The water spray play area features water play while providing year-round enjoyment in the Northwest climate. The playground water is low volume, potable and zero depth (no standing water). Water spray is on daily from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., mid-May through mid-September, depending upon weather.

Colman Pool is a Seattle landmark you won't want to miss this summer. It enjoys a stunning setting on the beach, the pool is heated saltwater, and if that's not enough, it features the Giant Tube Slide!

Kelsey Creek Park is neighborhood park featuring farm animals, picturesque barns and a historic cabin that are sure to create fond memories.
